

ABOUT MAUREEN MOSS

I never intended to be a writer, motivational speaker or personal coach, (though I must admit I had a deep desire to be on the airwaves.) In any case I set out after twenty years in the business world, though I was successful, I wasn't fulfilled. I knew something had to change. I began expanding my horizon to include speaking about what I knew as a businesswoman and a resourceful human being. Still, something was missing for me. I told my friends that I felt as though I had a panther in me, scratching at my soul, to get out. I went in search of the key.

I began various courses of study to investigate what was inside of me, besides the panther pacing back and forth. For more than a dozen years I investigated my inner world, with the help of others, who seemed far more content than I. I became certified in various courses of study regarding the world of inner significance, coming out every now and again, to try myself out in the outer world. It was apparent that I had begun to transform into a more substantial human being. I am in deep gratitude for The Course In Miracles, The Kabbalah, The Bhagavad Gita, The Science of the Mind, Love Without Conditions, the study of NLP, and my willingness to let the part of me that was seeking refuge in "the great external promise," to slowly die off.

Walking away from the business world a piece at a time, I turned my attention to people who were struggling to find their peace. As a personal coach and teacher I began working with a wide variety of people from many walks of life. There were judges, nurses, teachers, CEO's, married couples, single mothers, families in crisis and homeless children. As a motivational speaker, I focused on human transformation. Happiness welled up from within. The panther became still. Soon after I began traveling upon my true life's path I read a quote by Abraham Lincoln, that I wish I had penned. He said, "I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to what Light I have."

For the first time in my life I was living up to what Light I had. Besides speaking, I began writing. My first book The Nature of Bliss: Balance, Love, Integrity, Sexuality, Soul came forth as a result of my delving deeply into Life, for almost a dozen years. My second book, Commitment To Love~Transforming Human Nature Into Divine Nature was quite another experience. This time it was Life coming through me and teaching me as I wrote. Further transformation and a deeper peace followed, as well as three other CDs. (See products page for further info.)

Upon completion of both books I realized I had a new career. It is as a carpenter building transformational doorways to invite people into themselves in a manner that is doable and compassionate—strong and stabilizing. I have had many moments of awe on this path of transformation, and it is my pleasure to be in service to humanity and the planet Earth as an author, motivational speaker, steward and executive producer of the World Puja Network, columnist, and a personal coach. Each morning I wake up and simply ask God to use my Life.

I invite you to see what treasures and assistance lie in the pages ahead that will help you in living up to what Light you have. My door is always open.
